The image is an aerial photograph of a landscape. It features a large, irregularly shaped area of dense green forest. Within this forested area, there is a smaller, roughly hexagonal area highlighted in bright orange. This orange area is surrounded by a thick black border. To the left of the orange area, there is a small cluster of buildings and a road. To the right, there is a small, lighter-colored area that appears to be a clearing or a small body of water. The overall scene is a mix of dark green forest and lighter green open areas.
